at 0400 on Sunday 07 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Remaining settled but turning wet and very windy midweek.

Today:
A cold start with frost across many areas, then fine and dry throughout the day. Turning cloudier into the afternoon with the best of the sunshine in the south during the morning. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining dry into the night with clouds breaking up in most areas, allowing for some lengthy clear periods. Feeling cold with frost likely under clear skies. Minimum temperature -1 deg C (30 deg F).

Monday:
Feeling cold to start with frost clearing through the morning. Largely dry throughout, although turning cloudier than of late so sunshine more limited. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Patchy light rain on Tuesday, and winds increasing overnight. Heavy rain on Wednesday and strong winds, with gales, especially later. Blustery heavy showers and a risk of hail on Thursday.
